

At each  $x$ , posterior defines a full distributional approach instead of only point-wise predictions.
( $k(x, x')$  is Matérn with  $\nu = 2.5$ , the default for `DiceKriging::km`)